Subject: comprehensive plan

Hi,

Having only been in the islands just over five years, the long history of the comprehensive plan is a bit of a mystery to me, and I really know very little about it. I know it is meant to be the guide for any growth we permit. It is my understanding that a request for a "truth in planning" document was made in 2001 related to the Comprehensive Plan and approved unanimously by the Planning Commission in 2001. The Planning Commission's recommendation has not been implemented, and sixteen years later, we still don't know what the CP really says. It would be great if the Council and staff could prepare what the plan states in plain language, especially as regards growth: when, where, what, and why. We live in a wonderful place, and we need to preserve it for future generations.

Thank you,
David Turnoy
