

Care about Clean Water?

Join the Environmental Resources Division of San Juan County, at one of three community meetings, to discuss water resources on the Islands and the cost of keeping it clean and plentiful.

The Clean Water Utility (aka the Stormwater Utility) was established in 2005, to provide storm and surface water management throughout the County. Today, it has a growing list of capital improvement projects needed to resolve drainage, flooding, and water quality issues. And there are ground water and fisheries issues that have yet to be addressed.

The County has the lowest “storm water” fee in the State, and will likely continue to under the proposed fee adjustment – which varies by Island and the level of service and improvement needs. Lower and fixed income homeowners will have options for fee relief should they be unable to pay the increase.

To find out more, please join us a one of three community meetings, participate in the on-line survey at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/J8ZNLQH> by February 4th and/or contact the Utility manager Kendra Smith directly at kendras@sanjuanco.com or 360.370.0532
