The Runstad bulkhead is not categorized as documented forage fish spawning habitat. Beach nourishment is also required to be clean/washed prior to placement to minimize turbidity. Beach nourishment would be typically placed up close to the bulkhead and away from eelgrass habitat.

Hi

Are there specific standards for the gravel to prevent it from introducing sediment? Our code prohibits beach nourishment in "breeding, spawning or nesting habitats" and there is eelgrass shown on our map so I am trying to make sense of how to address this.

Thanks

Lee

Lee,

Yes, the Runstad's will be required to provide beach nourishment as required by WDFW. Let me know if you have any questions.
