I. INTRODUCTION

Robert and “Toni” Bailey, the applicants, own a property located at 350 Neil Bay Road, which is in the Rural Residential (RR) land use designation on San Juan Island. There is an existing 2-bedroom home on the site, and no ADU. The Staff Report thoroughly explains the details associated with this application and explains how it complies with applicable approval criteria, subject to conditions. There was no opposition to the requested permit, following notices issued in accord with County codes. As explained below, the Bailey’s application is approved, subject to conditions of approval.

II. CONTENTS OF RECORD

TESTIMONY AT PUBLIC HEARING:

All witnesses who offered testimony during the public hearing were placed under oath. Julie Thompson, the County’s planner assigned to review the pending application, appeared at the hearing and briefly summarized her review and information in the Staff Report, noting that all procedural and notice requirements have been satisfied and that there were no comments received regarding the application. She explained that the application merits approval, subject to conditions. The applicants were present at the hearing, and confirmed that they accepted the Staff Report and all recommended conditions of approval without reservation or need for changes. No one spoke in opposition to the requested permit.

EXHIBITS:

A. Staff Report, prepared by Project Planner, Julie Thompson, dated May 7, 2019, with six exhibits as numbered and described on page 9 of the Staff Report. The applicants obtained a favorable inspection on the septic system serving their property, and a copy of information confirming same was added to the record at the hearing.

III. APPLICABLE LAW

Jurisdiction.

Under SJCC 18.80.090(C), if a development application is processed as a Conditional Use Permit application, “the Hearing Examiner is the decisionmaker.” SJCC 18.80.100(C), captioned “Decisionmaking Authority”, provides that “[t]he hearing examiner has the authority to approve or deny conditional use permit ... applications, and to impose conditions of approval on such permits.”

Conditional Use Permit required for vacation rentals.

The “allowability” of various land uses, including “vacation rental of a residence or accessory dwelling unit” is found in a table codified as SJCC 18.30.040. Properties identified under the Rural Residential land use designation are required to obtain a Conditional Use Permit for a vacation rental.

See “Allowable and Prohibited Uses in Rural, Resource, and Special Land Use Designations Table,” at SJCC 18.30.040.

Standards for vacation rentals; Criteria for CUP approval.

San Juan County’s Unified Development Code includes specific standards that apply to all vacation (short-term, less than 30 days) rentals of single family residential units and accessory dwelling units or portions thereof. These standards are now found at SJCC 18.40.275. The Criteria for approval of a Conditional Use Permit are found at SJCC 18.80.100(D), and include ten items that must be considered by the Examiner.

Burden and Nature of Proof.

Under SJCC 18.80.040(B), “[t]he burden of proof is on the project permit applicant. The project permit application must be supported by evidence that it is consistent with the applicable state law, County development regulations, the Comprehensive Plan, and the applicant meets [their] burden of proving that any significant adverse environmental impacts have been adequately analyzed and addressed.”

IV. ISSUE PRESENTED

Whether a preponderance of evidence demonstrates that the applicants have satisfied their burden of proof to meet the criteria for Conditional Use Permit approval?

Short Answer: Yes, subject to conditions.

V. FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Upon consideration of all the evidence, exhibits, testimony, codes, policies, regulations, and other information contained in the file, the undersigned Examiner issues the following findings, conclusions and Decision approving the Conditional Use Permit as set forth below.
2. Any statements in previous or following sections of this document that are deemed findings are hereby adopted as such, including without limitation the Introduction provided above.
3. As noted above, Robert and Antonia “Toni” Bailey, the applicants, own a property located on San Juan Island with a 2-bedroom home on the site. In March of this year, the applicants submitted materials to obtain a permit authorizing use of their home as a vacation rental.
4. The applicants seek a conditional use permit to rent their 2-bedroom house as a short-term vacation rental. It is the only residential structure on the site, i.e. there is no accessory dwelling unit.

5. The Staff Report thoroughly explains how: a) the Bailey's proposed vacation rental can be operated and conditioned to satisfy all applicable performance standards for Vacation (short-term) rentals, found in SJCC 18.40.275 (See Staff Report, pages 2 – 5); and b) how the Bailey's application satisfies all approval criteria for the requested Conditional Use Permit, subject to conditions (See Staff Report, pages 5-7). Except as modified in this Decision, the Examiner adopts all statements of fact and findings included in the Staff Report as Findings of Fact supporting this Decision and Conditions of Approval set forth below.

6. There is no evidence in the record that would serve as a basis to deny the requested permit. Instead, the unchallenged analysis and explanation provided in the Staff Report, with its supporting exhibits, constitutes a preponderance of evidence demonstrating how the requested permit complies with all applicable approval criteria. If the applicant fails to comply with any conditions of approval, it could result in revocation of the permit addressed in this decision.

7. As with all permits issued by the County, this permit does not waive or excuse an applicant's obligation to comply with any utility service provider's lawful regulations or requirements, including without limitation electrical, telephone, cable, internet, sanitation, and water service providers.

VI. CONCLUSIONS of LAW

1. Based on the Findings as summarized above, the undersigned examiner concludes that the proposed Conditional Use Permit for a vacation rental conforms to all applicable land use requirements and appropriately mitigates adverse environmental impacts. Upon reaching such findings and conclusions as noted above, the CUP application meets the standards necessary to obtain approval by the County.

2. The Department's recommended conditions of approval as set forth in the Staff Report are reasonable, supported by the evidence, and capable of accomplishment. Each and every condition is adopted and incorporated herein by reference, except as modified below.

3. Any Finding or other statements in previous or following sections of this document that are deemed Conclusions are hereby adopted as such.
