I would like to add that San Juan County would benefit with more detailed regulation of commercial marijuana grow operations.
Such as easement, visual, shoreline and environmental restrictions.
Other counties in the state have faced these same issues and established controls that work for both the residents and the growers who comply.
We need to extend moratorium so that these issues can be resolved in a well thought out and researched effort.
Please consider additional time and regulation

We are homeowners who would be directly effected if Lauren Benitou is granted a permit to grow marijuana on his small waterfront lot on Lopez Sound Road. We all share a weak aquifer which would greatly compromise the availability of us to have water especially during our driest summer months when his marijuana would have the greatest need for water. Many of our neighbors, like us, have been here for over 30 years and don't believe our properties are appropriate for a marijuana grow operation, especially with our homes in such close approximation to his narrow property. The smell emanating from the processing of the marijuana and the intrusion of the noise and lights from the required security for such a property offer addition reasons why this property should not be permitted to grow marijuana. We appreciate your consideration,
