How disposable income is calculated

"Disposable income" has a specific definition for the purpose of this program. Per RCW 84.36.383(6), "disposable income" is adjusted gross income, as defined in the federal internal revenue code, plus all of the following that were not included in, or were deducted from, adjusted gross income:

- Capital gains, other than a gain on the sale of a principal residence that is reinvested in a new principal residence.
- Amounts deducted for losses or depreciation.
- Pensions and annuities.
- Social security act and railroad retirement benefit.
- Military pay and benefits other than attendant-care and medical-aid payments.
- Veterans pay and benefits other than attendant-care, medical-aid payments, VA disability benefits, and DIC.
- Dividend receipts.
- Interest received on state and municipal bonds.

These incomes are included in "disposable income" even when it is not taxable for IRS purposes.

Mid-year income change

If your income substantially decreased for at least two months before the end of the year and you expect the change to continue indefinitely, you may be able to use your new average monthly income to estimate your annual income. Calculate your income by multiplying your new average monthly income (during the months after the change occurred) by 12. Include documentation that shows your new monthly income and when the change occurred with your included documentation.

Example: You retired in May and your monthly income decreased from $3,500 to $1,000 beginning in June. Multiply $1,000 x 12 to estimate your new annual income.

Important: Calculate disposable income for you, your spouse/domestic partner, and any co-tenant(s). If you report income that is very low or zero, attach documentation showing how you meet your daily expenses.

Use Line J to report any income not reported on your tax return and not listed on Lines A through I. Include foreign income not reported on your federal tax return and income contributed by other household members. Provide the source and amount of the income.

How combined disposable income is calculated

Per RCW 84.36.383(1) "combined disposable income" is your disposable income plus the disposable income of your spouse/domestic partner and any co-tenants, minus expenses for you or your spouse/domestic partner for:

- Prescription drugs.
- Treatment or care of either person in the home or in a nursing home, boarding home, or adult family home.
- Health care insurance premiums for Medicare Parts A, B, C, and D only. Amounts paid for insurance premiums other than Medicare Parts A, B, C, and D are not deductible.

Care or treatment in your home means medical treatment or care received in the home, including physical therapy. You can also deduct costs for necessities such as oxygen, special needs furniture, attendant-care, light housekeeping tasks, meals-on-wheels, life alert, and other services that are part of a necessary or appropriate in-home service.

Special instructions for Line O

If you had adjustments to your income for any of the following, report these amounts on Line O and include the documentation you used to calculate the amount of the adjustment.

- Educator expenses.
- Self-employment deductions.
- Health savings account deductions.
- Moving expenses for members of the Armed Forces.
- IRA deduction.
- Alimony paid.
- Student loan interest.
- Tuition and fees.

Exemption program benefits

The taxable value of your home will be “frozen” as of January 1 in the year you first qualify for this program. Even though your assessed value may change, your taxable value will not increase above your frozen value. In addition, your combined disposable income determines the level of reduction (exemption) in your annual property taxes. Note: In 2019, the Legislature changed the income thresholds effective for taxes levied for collection in 2020 and forward. County specific thresholds can be found at dor.wa.gov/incomethresholds

Income thresholds and level of reduction

Income Threshold 1: Exempt from regular property taxes on $60,000 or 60% of the valuation, whichever is greater, plus exemption from 100% of excess levies and Part 2 of the state school levy.

Income Threshold 2: Exempt from regular property taxes on $50,000 or 35% of the valuation, whichever is greater, not to exceed $70,000, plus exemption from 100% of excess levies and Part 2 of the state school levy.

Income Threshold 3: Exempt from 100% of excess levies and Part 2 of the state school levy.
