Thanks to all of you for your willingness to bring the vacation rental moratorium issue up early in the agenda for Council activity in 2021. Thanks for taking the time to review issues on Monday 11 January in your discussion session, thanks for adding the vr question to the agenda for today's CC meeting, and in particular thank you all for voting unanimously to implement a moratorium on the issuance of new vacation rental permits beginning tomorrow.

I know there is a lot of work to be done going forward. I know taking this step may lead to challenges. That said, you are to be applauded for your willingness to step forward in to a critical arena regarding the present and future quality of life here in the san juans.

I applaud your leadership. It is refreshing to observe and participate in.

With gratitude
