My husband and I are writing to encourage the council to extend this moratorium. We are very concerned about the impact that all these extra people will have on our environment and we also have seen such an increase in tourism just in the fifteen year we have lived here. Crowded streets, parking problems, and the inability to eat at the various restaurants are just a few of the results of all these extra people on our island.

Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,
Joan and John Fletcher
