Hello,

Any who considers growth for the San Juan islands would assume the 134,000 enabeling projection is a joke or a misprint.

Who are we kidding? No plan to keep it rural as in the mission statement? Just let the islands be destroyed?

We are already at capacity!! Water wise, roads conjection in the summer, local housing... The vision statement is to keep these islands RURAL.

It is not about turning these islands into crowded suburbs and and transit population of tourists, part timers, and off island workers.

We ARE at capacity.

At the current rate or growth, we are destroying the reason we live here. We must create a system to support the vision statement.

Thank you,
Naomi
