Dear Sophia,

In my view of our situation our dilemma can be illustrated thusly:

Person B – “We’re sitting on a Gold Mine here!!”

Person A – “Hey, that’s my backyard you’re talking about!”

Recently there’s been a heck of a lot of activity on the part of the Person B’s.

The Person A’s have been enjoying their “backyards” (especially those that have an actual backyard) and relatively few of them have been rattling the County’s cages.

I have lived on Orcas since 1971 and feel very grateful to have a backyard in the original OPAL neighborhood since 1996. You can count me as a cage rattler.
