Free Childhood Vaccines Available at Back-to-School Clinics

K-12 students will have the opportunity to catch up on childhood vaccines at free, walk-in clinics.

SAN JUAN COUNTY, WA. August 8, 2022. – San Juan County Health and Community Services (HCS) is providing free childhood vaccines for K-12 students at back-to-school clinics on San Juan, Orcas, and Lopez Islands beginning the end of August and into September. These clinics are free and no appointment is needed. Immunizations will be given on a first-come, first-served basis.

- Clinics will be available on San Juan Island on Sept. 1 at the Friday Harbor HCS clinic (145 Rhone St).
- Clinics will be available on Orcas Island on Aug. 30 at the Orcas Island School Cafeteria and on Sept. 7 at the Orcas HCS clinic (Orcas Senior Services Center – 62 Henry Rd).
- Clinics will be available on Lopez Island on Aug. 31 at the Lopez Island School Multipurpose Room and on Sept. 6 at the Lopez HCS Clinic (Lopez Island Family Resource Center – 23 Pear Tree Ln, Ste 140).

All children in Washington are eligible for free routine childhood vaccinations through the Vaccines for Children Program. HCS will not be charging vaccine administration fees at these back-to-school clinics. If you are not sure which vaccines your child needs, HCS public health nurses will be able to discuss vaccine schedules with you and can help look up your child's vaccine record. If you have other vaccine questions prior to the clinics, you may reach a public health nurse by calling 360-370-7511.
